POPULAR SCIENCE.

A THREAD has been produced from the common nettle so fine that a length of sixty miles weighs only two and one-half pounds.

PAPER containing ligneous substances, such as straw, wood, and jute, is rapidly discolored by electric light. The yellowing is due to the phenomenon of oxidation.

GERMAN experiments have shown that cast-iron pillars remain nearly upright and sustain their load in very hot fires, while those of wrought-iron bend to such a degree as to be valueless as supports.

AN attempt to infuse new vigor into the degenerating potato by crossing the cultivated varieties with the wild plant has been for two or three seasons in progress at Reading, England, and has proven very successful thus far. The hybrid plants produce a good yield of tubers of excellent form and quality.

THE old idea that sufferers from heart disease should avoid physical exertion has been dispelled by Prof. Oertel, who has successfully employed regulated exercise in the treatment of some forms. In a large proportion of cases, the nutrition of the cardiac muscle, as of the muscular system generally, is thus improved.

WAX a piece of buttonhole twist about two and one-half feet long. Tie each end strongly to a small peg, and thrust the pegs down the crevice between the two sashes of your southern or western window, stretching the silk as tight as possible. It will surprise you with the sweetness and variety of the tones the wind will bring from it.

THE Royal Society of London furnishes some interesting examples of the longevity of men distinguished for scientific work. The average age of the fourteen fellows who died during the year was 75 years, the youngest, Dr. Wilson Fox, being 56, and the oldest, Admiral Denham and Dr. Richard Quain, being 87.

ATTENTION has just been called in a scientific paper to two races of men that must soon become extinct. It is confidently predicted that at the present rate of decrease the Maoris of New Zealand, now reduced to less than 45,000 men, from 100,000 in Capt. Cook's days, must have disappeared by the year 2000. The Laplanders are estimated not to exceed 30,000 in numbers, and are gradually becoming fewer.

DR. T. LANGDON DOWN, inquiring into the causes of idiocy, has found that intemperance of parents is one of the most considerable factors in producing the affection. His view is confirmed by some French and German investigators, one of whom, Dr. Delasiauve, has said that in the village of Caremet, whose riches were in its vineyards, ten years' comparative sobriety, enforced by vine disease, had a sensible effect in diminishing the cases of idiocy. Nervous constitution and consumption exercise important influence.

THE Russian weather-observing system is the most extensive on the globe, and embraces remarkable climatic contrasts. It has two principal observatories and 255 subordinate stations, and its latest report gives rainfall observations for 650 localities. Many of the stations have lately been added, and one of these, Werchojansk in Siberia, is now recorded as the coldest point known on earth. The mean temperature for the year 1885 was 29 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, for January and December it was 62.9 degrees below, and for July it rose to 60.6 degrees above zero. The lowest temperature in July was 39.2 degrees above, while in January a fall of 88.6 degrees below zero was experienced. Werchoansk is in latitude 67 degrees 34 minutes, longitude 133 degrees 51 minutes.

THE STRIKE.

Engineers and Firemen of the Santa Fe Resume Work, and Their Trouble is Over.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19.—The Santa Fe strike is over. The following official notice was issued at 6 o'clock last evening:

"KANSAS CITY, March 18, 1888.

"To the Engineers and Firemen of the Santa Fe System:

"I am advised by our grand chief to request of you that you return to your respective positions at once; further, that I repair to Chicago and adjust all misunderstanding. I. CONNOR,

"Chairman General Grievance Committee."

Trains were moved yesterday with some regularity.

The trains on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Gulf road all went out on time yesterday, with no indications of trouble.

On the Burlington the trains are all running on time.

The depot presented a deserted appearance all day, as there was little interest taken in the movements of trains and the general feeling was that the strike was over.

As one of the men mounted his engine to take out the train of an old engineer standing in a group near by he turned to his companions and said: "Well, boys, fall in. The last man to go back will be the one who gets left. It is only a matter of time now."

His prediction was verified when at six o'clock Chairman Conroe's notice was issued. The men took the matter philosophically, and last evening nearly all of them at present in the city were applying to Assistant Superintendent Spoor for orders, transportation, etc.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, March 19.—Acting upon the advice of the court, Receiver Dudley this morning closed the shops and general offices of the Central Iowa railway in this city, laying off all the employes here and along the line, except enough to guard the property and handle the passenger service.

This is the result of the tie-up of freight traffic and is the receiver's only alternative, as without the freight earnings there would be nothing to meet the pay roll. Notice has been given the striking engineers to report at 8 o'clock to-morrow for work or be discharged.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 19.—Four hundred engineers and firemen, representing twenty-two division and having ten thousand members, met here last night to discuss the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy strike. A resolution was adopted indorsing the strike and pledeging "financial and other aid, consistent with the principals of our order," when called upon.

KANSAS CITY, March 19.—All the passenger trains on the Santa Fe go out on time. This morning, at the freight yards, all is activity and switch engines are darting around, making up trains as rapidly as possible, and every effort is being made to relieve the freight blockade.

No. 3 passenger train, which leaves at 10 a. m., stands on the track, with the regular engineer in the cab. A steady rain has been falling all morning. The depot is deserted by all all except those who are there on business.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 19.—There are numerous rumors of impending troubles on nearly all the roads centering here.

"THE LILLIE."

How the New Police Patrol Wagon Was Christened.

It was agreed some days ago to name the new police wagon in honor of its first victim.

Saturday night Chief Diehl officially announced the system in operation. He sat by the instrument waiting and watching. Finally Officer Jim Sheridan sent in a patrol alarm. The wagon responded on Chicago street, manned by Chief Diehl and Lieutenant Wilkinson, with George Swain holding ribbons over the team.

Unconscious of the approach of the police posse, William Lillie was industriously pelting with stones a boarding house from which he had been ejected.

Quicker than it takes to tell it he was whirled to the station house. This settled the name of the wagon and it was duly christened "The Lillie." A rather pretty name it is, too.

Twenty-five Killed.

BLACKSHEAR, Ga., March 19.—An accident without a parallel in the history of railroads occurred one mile north of here at 10 o'clock Saturday by the falling of the bridge over Alappa river on the S., F. and W. railroad, wrecking the south-bound passenger train, killing twenty-five passengers and employes instantly and wounding thirty five more, some of whom died the same night. Among the wounded were Gen. E. P. Wilbur, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad; also George J. Gould and wife, but fortunately not serious.

CHICAGO PAINTERS!

They Inaugurate a Strike One Thousand, Seven Hundred Strong This Morning.

CHICAGO, March 19.—About 1,700 of 2,300 union painters in the city went out on a strike to-day for a uniform rate of thirty-seven and one-half cents per hour.

The master workman says that twenty-four out of the fifty-two principal shops had given in and that others were holding back to see what action the other big shops would take.

BRUTAL CRIME.

Atrocious Deed of a Robber, Who Beats an Old Couple and Fired Their House.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 19.—The whole country around here is terribly excited over a brutal crime which was committed near Trumansburg. Robert Barber, a farm hand, went to the house of Richard Mason, an old man over seventy, and after horribly beating him with a club, he attacked Mason's wife and beat her head into a shapeless mass of bleeding flesh. Barber then poured the contents of the lamp over the couple, set the house on fire, and fled.

Mason recovered sufficiently to crawl from the burning building into a snow drift, but his wife's body was burned to a cinder. The blaze attracted the neighbors and Mason told them the story of the crime. Five hundred excited farmers were soon scouring the country and before morning Barber was captured and is now in jail in this city. It is reported that a mob is being organized at Trumansburg to come to Ithaca to-night and lynch Barber. Old man Mason cannot live many hours. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive for the crime.

BLOWN UP.

A Saloon Wrecked With Giant Powder.

MARION, Ind., March 19.—The third attempt within a year to blow up the saloon of Jasper N. Watson, of Jonesboro, occurred Saturday. The bomb, which was evidently laid on the front door step, was loaded with giant powder. The front of the building was badly wrecked and adjacent window lights were shattered. The responsibility for this piece of vandalism is laid at the door of crank prohibitionists, who predominate largely in the neighborhood of Jonesboro and who believe any means justifiable that will accomplish their ends.

THE POOR HOUSE.

Supt. John Wilkinson Makes His Semi-Annual Report.

This morning, Supt. John Wilkinson, of the poor farm, filed with board of commissioners an admirable account of his stewardship, from September 1, 1887, to March 1, 1888, just six months.

The personal property on the farm inventories, $8,058.51.

September 1, 1887, there were seventy-seven inmates in the infirmary. During the past six months, sixty-five new applicants were admitted, fifty-four were discharged, four were born there, five died there, making the total number cared for in the half a year 142, an average of one per day.

The total expenditures for six months were $2,915.95, making the daily expense of the institution, $16.02.1, or nineteen cents and seventy-seven mills per head for inmates.

Beat this splendid showing if you can.

Ohio's Case.

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—The argument in the tally sheet forgery case was adjourned to this morning, when Mills, of Chicago, who is making the closing speech, will conclude. He has been talking since Friday noon.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Indiana: warmer, fair weather, followed by occasional light rain or snow and colder westerly wind.

A Compliment to Home Talent.

Prof. G. W. Dawson of the firm of Dawson & Karn, of this city, was honored by the Story & Clark Organ company, of Chicago, in being chosen harmonist to write the grand march for this enterprising firm. Prof. Dawson had the manuscript ready for the press in just one day and a half from the time he received the appointment. A letter from Story & Clark is in the Professor's hands, which expresses their great delight and satisfaction with his masterly effort. This is indeed a great compliment to Fort Wayne talent. As the Professor is a modest man, he is not inclined to boast of his musical ability and skillfulness. A city pastor having heard of this worthy letter of commendation dropped in this morning to hear this march and he was so pleased with the the production that he at once reported the above to THE SENTINEL.

THE BELL WINS!

The United States Supreme Court Sustains the Bell Telephone Patents by a Vote of 4 to 3.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The decision of the supreme court in the telephone case has been announced and is in favor of the Bell Telephone company. Justice Bradley is reading an opinion dissenting from the decision of the court. Justices Field and Harlan dissent and Justices Gray and Lamar did not sit in the case. The Bell patents are, therefore, sustained by a majority of one, the court standing four to three. The dissent of Justices Bradley, Field and Harlan is based upon the Drawbaugh claim.

These three justices are of the opinion that the evidence overwhelmingly shows that Drawbaugh was the first inventor of the speaking telephone, although he was unconscious of it and was not aware of its importance.

LESLIE M'CUNE.

Her Mother Proposes to go Into the Courts to Secure the Child.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Mrs. Libby Culbertson McCune, of No. 140 East Twelfth street, whose ten-year-old daughter was recently kidnapped in broad daylight from the street in front of her residence and hurried off to Ironton, Ohio, has retained Howe & Hummel to care for her interests here, and Ralph H. Leete, of Ironton, to prosecute her claim there, and she says she proposes to make an earnest effort to recover her daughter and to punish the men who were engaged in the kidnapping.

Mrs. McCune is assured by her lawyer at Ironton that many of the best citizens of the place are with her. Mrs. McCune's stage name was Marie Burton. After she came here with the child, she left the stage in order to devote herself entirely to its care, and has since supported herself by giving music lessons.

AFTER THE GIRLS.

The Wickliffe and Monroe Houses Raided by the Police.

Last night, the patrol wagon whirled a posse of police to the Oliver house and arrested Mrs. Wickliffe and nine inmates, four women and six men in all. The girls gave up $18 each, and all but one of the men put up like sums at the police station, whither they were taken in the wagon.

The home of Annie Monroe was next called on and three women and two men were found. They produced $18 each.

They were all recorded as forfeitures at the mayor's court, this morning, in the presence of a big lobby.

JOHN SMALLEY

Arrested for Stealing a Horse Four Years Ago.

Something like four years ago John Smalley, alias Kacher, hired a horse from Luce Stapleford and driving to Bull Rapids sold the animal.

He was indicted but fled the country. He came back Saturday. Mr. Stapleford heard it and told the officers. Today Sheriff Viberg landed the fellow in jail.

You cannot get away from Allen county officers.

TRYING TO RELEASE MURDERERS.

A Friend Takes an Impression of the County Jail Lock.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., March 19.—Sheriff Bratton, of this county, said that some one had taken an impression of the lock to the county jail office, in which the case containing the keys to the cells is kept. The jail contains two prisoners charged with cold-blooded murder, and a well-known friend of one of the them is suspected of being anxious to liberate both. Extra precaution is being used to make the cast taken valueless.

FROM THE WINDOWS

Many People Leaped to Escape the Fiery Element--One Person Killed and Many Injured.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The Elberson flats, at the corner of Eighty-sixth street and Madison avenue, was burned this morning about 7 o'clock. There was great excitement and many people jumped out of the windows. Mrs. Frances Westlake, a widow, was killed. Five others were badly hurt; and burned. Assistant Fireman Quirk was badly hurt by the fall of a ladder, while rescuing a child from a window of the burning dwelling.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19.—A fire last night on Bay street burned the Bradley fertilizer warehouse, Hazeltone & Lovingston's warehouse, the Debarry steamship offices and the wharf. The total loss is about $125,000.

RED CLOUD.

An Indian Chief Out on a Little Lark.

Thomas Red Cloud, who is a sort of Indian chief with Dr. White Cloud's party, was out on a "lark" last night and managed to surround more "fire water" than he could carry.

In some way the warrior brave got into the residence of Mr. Abraham Oppenheimer, on West Berry street.

When the housemaid and her lover sauntered into the yard they spied the chief peacefully slumbering in the sitting room. They gave the alarm, the patrol wagon responded and Red Cloud was wafted off to the cooler.

The fellow was awful drunk, and as no villianous intent could be attributed to his act, the mayor fined him $1 and costs, $13 in all. Red Cloud paid and is still in the ring.

Didn't Stand Together.

A negro Justice of the Peace called on a Circuit Judge.

"Come in, 'Squire," said the Judge. "What can I do for you?"

The 'Squire sat down and twirled his thumbs. "I say what can I do for you, 'Squire?"

"Oh, I know what yer said," giving to his eyes that slow and tremulous squint which, with a negro, is expressive of disgust. "I know what yer said, an' I also knows what yer's done. What made yer ack dater way in dat haugh case?"

"What hog case?"

"Why, dat case twixt Simons an' Boyle. I 'cided it in de fabor o' Boyle but when it wuz fotch up yere why yerse'f 'verses de 'cision an' gins it ter Simons."

"The jury did so because the law and the facts were on his side."

"De jury! Why, man, aint you got no furder erlong yit den ter fool wid er jury? I'd like ter see er jury take er case 'way frum me. Come er lettin' dat jury run erway wid dat case an' gin it ter dat Simons w'en he already owes me er dollar fur some fraish meat I let him hab las' fall. Why, yo' foolishness, Jedge, hab flung all my calculations ober de fence. Airter I 'cided in de fabor o' Mr. Boyle he gin me er dollar an' sebenty-fi' cents, and dis mawnin' he come erround', he did, an' tole me dat I'd hatter gin him back de money all on ercount o' yo' foolishness. I does think dat da does put some o' de oneddycatest men on de bench I eber seed. Jedge, is yer gwine ter let me be beat outen dat money? Gwine ter set on yo' bench an' let er jury cheat yo' brudder in de 'disherwary outen er dollar and sebenty-fi' cents? Aint it erbout time dat de lawgibers o' dis gre't lan' wuz er standin' shoulder ter shoulder?"

"Get out, you old rascal."

He cast an indignant look upon the Judge, moved to the door, stopped, and said: "Er law 'vided ergin itse'f kaint stan', and de fust thing you know you gwine tumble offen dat bench. Go erhead an' git yo' juries ter beat folks outen dar money. Go on, an' when yer hears suthin' drap look roun' an' you'll find it wuz yerse'f, sah."—Arkansaw Traveler.

The Fort Wayne bicycle club will give an elaborate banquet at the Wayne hotel April 6.

Now the News is giving the C., R. and Q. strike a local phaze. It's a little late and out of season.

The county commissioners to-day established the Powers' road in Jefferson and Jackson townships.

The child of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Coon was buried from the Cathedral this morning. The cortege was quite large.

Mr. John F. Noll has purchased the interest of the late Martin Noll in the boot and shoe business at No. 22 Clinton street.

We are pleased to announce the return of Mrs. S. Pottlitzer, who has been at New York for nearly three months on account of ill health.

Adams & Armstrong, the wholesale milliners, will have their grand opening to-morrow. This will attract quite a number of ladies from abroad.

Mr. H. G. Olds and family returned last night from Florida. To-night Mr. Olds and Mr. J. W. White go to Pittsburg to attend the convention of wheelmakers.

Rev. Dr. Moffatt preached an excellent sermon yesterday morning from his pulpit, at the First Presbyterian church, upon the duty of the Christian to give a willing and cheerful service to the Lord and lead a Godly life.

Mr. Frank Caldwell was in the city to-day, en route to Indianapolis to resume his duties as general passenger agent of the Lake Erie and Western road. Mr. Caldwell met his successor, Mr. Smith, at this point.

Railroad cottage meeting to-morrow evening will be held at the home of Mrs. Welch, corner Fairfield avenue and Butler street at 7:30 o'clock, standard time. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The red light will be shown to denote the house.

This is the anniversary of the battle of Bentonville fought twenty-three years ago by General Sherman's army. The Eighty-eighth Indiana regiment, under command of Capt. F. F. Boltz, opened that engagement. Captain Swann, Captain Hollopeter, and others were in the fight.

"A Wonderful Country" was the subject of the sermon preached yesterday morning by Rev. D. C. Woolpert, at the Berry Street M. E. church, and in treating of it he used the term to represent the eternal home of the Christian. It was an excellent sermon and was well received by the large audience present.

The Baptist church had the largest audience of the winter, last evening, and Pastor Northrop preached an interesting sermon to the immense congregation. The singing is one of the interesting features of the evening worship of this church. There are nearly one hundred voices in the choir, and with the quartet choir, the musical service of the Baptists is difficult to excel anywhere.

One of the light Brahma hens belonging to Mr. George P. Gorden, the baggage master at the Pittsburg depot, is certainly entitled to ribbons. Last week it laid an egg measuring seven and three-fourths inches one way and nine and seven-eighths inches the other, and what is more remarkable, when broken open, it was found to contain another perfectly formed egg with the shell complete. Such a hen as that is not found every day in the week.

The official announcement has just been made that the Wells Fargo Express company have absorbed the Erie Express. This company was operated by the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad, combining the Lake Erie & Wheeling and Chicago & Atlantic, giving them quite a territory between New York and Chicago. This new deal in express service gives the Wells Fargo company a through trans-continental line from New York to San Francisco, Cal., and the only through system in the country. Mr. H. C. Shimuch, who was formerly agent for the Adams and American here, is agent for that company at Chicago.

E. A. K. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

MONDAY, MARCH 19, 1888.

THE gravel road question is warming up.

ST. PATRICK'S day was very properly observed in this city.

VOTE at the democratic township primaries to-morrow afternoon.

KEEP an eye on the township elections. This is the first skirmish of the great battle of 1888.

Travel is mortgaged and taxed in Allen county. It is surprising that some people are content to conform to this sort of highway robbery.

THE democratic state central committee of Illinois was in session the other day and failed to endorse Gen. J. C. Black or Hon. Wm. R. Morrison for the vice-presidency.

ATTEND the Wayne township primary elections to-morrow and see to it that good delegates are chosen. In the country the polls are open from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and in the city from 4 to 7 in the evening.

THE Johnson City (Kansas) World, of March 8, comes out in an editorial endorsement of Gov. Isaac P. Gray for vice president on the ticket with Cleveland, and says that the Kansas delegation to toe St. Louis convention will be instructed for him.

The Mills bill, among other things, by putting coal on the free list, the Chicago Tribune says that "all New England could thus get cheaper fuel and power coal from the Pictou mines in Nova Scotia, and the Canadian retaliatory tariff on coal would be repealed, thus opening a new field of export to the coal operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois."

CHICAGO is to have a new democratic morning paper, The Globe. The first issue will appear about April 1st and it will be a straight party organ. Gen. Newbery, Erskine M. Phillips and other prominent democrats are large stockholders, and it is claimed that it will have a paid in capital of $250,000. It will be an eight page and will be edited by gentlemen who were for years Wilbur F. Storey's lieutenants. A. L. Patterson will be the business manager and Charles R. Dennett, managing editor.

THE Indianapolis Journal remarks: "Lieutenant Governor Robertson, in a general conversation on political matters said: 'It is supposed that during the winter I have been actively engaged in pushing a personal canvass for governor. I have traveled over the state considerably, it is true, but I went to no points except on business outside of politics. The only two occasions where politics was partly cause of the visits was when I addressed two political clubs. I would not have been here were it not for my lecture date at Plymouth church. I am off again early to-morrow morning to attend to legal business.'

THERE promises to be trouble over the proposed Indiana soldiers' monument. The design of Bruno Schmitz, the Berlin, Germany, architect, was accepted, but when he arrived to superintend the work it was found that his monument could not be erected for the $200,000 provided by law, but that it would cost $300,000; whereupon he proceeded to cut down the design as to make it come within the appropriation. Architect Shearer, whose design is said to have been the second choice, and whose monument could have been built with the $200,000 appropriated, claims that the proceedings regarding the Schmitz design have been illegal, and an injunction to prevent the execution of a contract is probable.

THE iron roofing trust is organized and legalized for robbery under cover of the tariff laws, with a powerful combination back of it. The tax on tin plate is one cent a pound and yields a revenue of from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 and increases the price thirty per cent. The iron roofing trust now thinks if the duty is advanced to two and one-fourth cents a pound, or 125 per cent., it will be prohibitory, and, giving the trust exclusive control of the market, the money that is now paid into the treasury would be paid to the government of the trust. Thus they could grind the American workmen and dealers, import pauper labor and take $6,000,000 or $10,000,000 from the pockets of the people to the treasury of the National Iron Roofing trust.

DR. MCGLYNN denies that he has appealed to Rome for a rehearing in his case, though he admits that he has hopes in that direction. He says: "I have no quarrel with the doctrines or the sacraments of the Catholic Church, but in the best interest of the Catholic religion I make a clear distinction between these things and the policies and politics of churchmen, which policies and politics may be not only blundering but criminal."

THE FAITH CURE.

A Sermon Delivered Upon the Subject By Rev. D. S. Kennedy Last Evening.

The theme taken by Rev. D. S. Kennedy, of the Third Presbyterian church, for his discourse last evening was "The Faith Cure." The subject possesses an interest because it is pushing its way to popular belief among certain classes and so many remarkable cases of it are given publication in the newspapers of the country.

As practiced and believed, the speaker said, he did not think it was in accordance with the teachings of Scripture. The power to heal the sick by faith was given to Christ and his apostles, but with the passing away of Apostolic times dissapeared this method of healing the sick and the halt and the maimed and the blind, just as the time for the performance of miracles had gone forever.

In those early days of Christianity it was bestowed upon the apostles by God for the purpose of establishing the word, but that such miraculous powers were possessed, or could be practiced now, he did not believe for an instant. The exigency that existed then did not exist now, and it was safe to say that those persons who claimed this power at the present time were either humbugs or laboring under a mistaken idea.

That cures were sometimes made by faith he did not doubt, but it was not the "faith upon faith," or the faith in prayer. It was the influence of the mind over the body and existed only in those cases where the ailment was a mental one or resulted from some nervous affection. Instances of this kind may occur. The body, with a strong will power, can often fight off disease and a hopeful, determined mind can dispel nervons and imaginary affections, but that faith could cure a rooted disease was unreasonable, unphilosophical and had no foundation in the scripture.

The speaker did not want to be understood as doubting the faith in Christian prayer. He believed that the prayer of the Godly man availeth much if uttered in the spirit of the scripture, "Not my will, but Thine, O, Lord." Prayer uttered for the sick in such a frame of mind will be effective if it is God's will that the patient should recover, but if such is not the case it could have no curative power except in the cases mentioned above.

If you require a spring medicine, if you are suffering with languor, debility, pimples, boils, catarrh, chronic sores, scrofula, or loss of appetite, or any disease arising from impure blood, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the safest and most economical of all blood purifiers.

ASSOCIATED PRESS.

How it Braved the Recent Blizzard in the East.

CINCINNATI, March 16.—The following telegram sent to the Western Union Telegraph Co., explains itself:

"To Thomas T. Eckert, Vice President W. U. Tel. Co., New York.

"I have been instructed by the joint executive committee to notify you of their appreciation of the favor shown to the press during the past week. The good judgment and energy exhibited in keeping always a way open for the information of the public through the press, notwithstanding the extraordinary difficulties, cannot be too highly praised.

"The storm was the most disastrous ever known within our experience and only a great organization, such as the Western Union Telegraph company, could enable us to reach nearly every section in our own country and the four quarters of the globe, day after day, while other methods of communication were cut off.

[Signed.] WM. HENRY SMITH, General Manager Associated Press.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Wanted Smuggled Goods.

She asked for lace of a certain kind, and the clerk took down a box and excused the small quantity in it by saying:

"We sold a great quantity of this the other day at wholesale."

"This is exactly like my sample, isn't it?"

"Yes'm. You must have bought that here."

"Oh, no, sir—I bought it of a peddler."

"Ah!"

"And I paid him 14 cents per yard, while you only charge six.

"I see. He told you—?"

"That it was smuggled over from Canada."

"Exactly. We sell to a number who go about telling the same story, but of course we are not responsible."

"I—I—!"

"Just so, ma'am. I know just how you feel about it, but being a woman, you can neither swear at yourself nor kick the man for a liar. Will you sit down in the back end of the store until your emotion subsides? No! Ah, well, call again. Nothing else to-day?"—Detroit Free Press.

Bogus Baking Powder Tests.

Rather ingenious but not less fraudulent are the pretended tests of baking powder being made in many of our kitchens by agents who are trying to further the sale of a Chicago article. These so-called tests consist in mixing separately, with water, a sample of the baking powder found in the house and of that carried by the agent. From that found in the house, if a pure article, the bubbles of gas will rise and burst on top like those from a glass of champaigne. The Chicago baking powder which they carry, when mixed with water, will show an extra froth upon the top of the mixture which is claimed as evidence of superiority. On the contrary, however, it is not only the exhibition of a trick, but is absolute proof that the baking powder which so acts is adulterated. The chemists have ascertained that the adulterant used is a chemical added for the express purpose of producing this action and deceiving housekeepers as to the true value of the baking powder. This is not only a dishonest trick but a dirty one, for the chemical is the product of the filthy refuse of the refuse of the slaughter house, and if used in the preparation of food passes into the biscuit or food without change. Of course, any statements made in reference to other baking powders, by parties caught in practicing such tricks as these for the purpose of deceiving the public, will be entitled to no credit.

It is probably wisest in the interest of our families, and to prevent our food from being contaminated by tramps of this kind, to turn all persons who wish or attempt to tamper with it unceremoniously from the door, and to use those articles only which experience has proved satisfactory, or the official tests have established as pure and wholesome.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved, and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HISTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

LEOPARDS TRAINED FOR HUNTING.

How Wild Animals in India Are Educated to Run Down Antelopes.

[Letter from India.]

The natives maintain that for true sport one must commence the training with a full-grown leopard for hunting purposes. The desirable fierceness and fleetness are only thus to be secured. The leopard is brought out in a bullock cart, with a kind of mask that covers its eyes. A chain is also slipped around its loins. It is quite tame, knowing its keeper and anticipating the sport.

The cart drives along, accompanied by the sportsmen, to a spot which the herd of antelopes will presently cross in their course. The does all go first, the black buck—the pride of the flock—invariably brings up the rear. The motive is ascribed to jealousy and a desire to keep his females all under his eye. Whatever the motive, the position is fatal to him. At the proper moment the hood is slipped off the cheetah's head, and his prey is shown him. Unlike the dog, he seems to hunt by sight and not by scent. He looks keenly about him for one moment, and then drops off the cart, generally at the off side, using it for a cover as long as he can. If there are trees or any raising ground he is quick to take advantage of them, and then makes his burst upon his quarry.

He almost invariably chooses the buck, but he runs him down by sheer fleetness. This is the meaning of those dog-like claws and the great length of limb that make him look almost out of proportion in where all the other cat-like creatures—tigars, leopards, jaguars, pumas, and lions—are short-legged and crouching. The speed is scarcely to be credited. There is no greyhound that can run down a doe antelope. But it is a sorry sport at best—if, indeed, it can be called sport at all. The cheetah springs on the back of the buck, strangles it, and laps up its blood. The huntsman comes up and cuts the throat of the antelope and, letting the blood flow into a wooden cup, gives it to the cheetah, watching his time when the creature is gorged to slip the hood over his eyes and lead him back to the cart.

The natives give their accounts of the animal more picturesquely, and the native accounts are still to be found in the natural-history books. In a wild state the cheetah feeds itself only every three days, gorging itself on these occasions and lying comatose during the intervals. In their pursuit of prey they are social, and in that way differ from most of the other carnivora. Two or three of them will meet at night and go forth on their hunting expeditions in company. It is by ascertaining their place of tryst that the natives are able to capture them. It is very often by the trunk of a tree, which is found all scratched and barked by their claws. Nooses and meshes are driven into the ground. The leopards come bounding over the grass and are soon caught. A blanket is flung over the head and the creature is tied and carried off. One of the favorite theories of the natives, which is repeated over and over again in the books, is that when the trained leopard misses his stroke he cannot recover his breath quick enough for a second bound and the heard passes from him in safety.

Then he gets extremely agitated, runs up and down till his temper subsides, and is at last carted and again let slip on fresh quarry. It is a picturesque kind of notion, but most men who have seen antelope-hunting in the East will be able to qualify its application. The leopard does not show his temper to any extreme extent, and, in fact, is making another bound on his prey before the antelope can get off or the temper can rise. Nor is the popular idea that he must be caught adult in order to secure the perfection of his hunting qualities quite correct. He is a tamable creature, and, therefore, even when an adult, can be managed, but those who have raised cheetah kittens will realize that it needs no training to make them gratify their carnivorous inclinations. Maj. Jerdon had one that followed him about like a dog, racing after him when he took his rides.

But when it grew up it showed soon enough that it was naturally given to hunting. Its attacks on sheep had to be prevented, and several horsewhippings made it realize that they were under special protection. A donkey defended himself successfully with his heels. A cheetah was in such matters quick to take a hint and had a good memory. Its training was commenced on gazelles, but it soon attained the dignity of bringing down antelopes. Its owner mentioned one peculiarity in proof that it hunted by sight and not by scent. It was very fond of mounting a stack of hay or the trunk of a tree, and from that eminence looking down on the hunting possibilities of the neighborhood, and, when actually in the chase, if the antelope got out of sight, it would abandon pursuit, but if a greyhound were then slipped he would resume the chase and, of course, outstrip the dog.

Nothing but superlative intrinsic merit can account for the phenomenal reputation achieved, in so short a time, by Salvation Oil. It kills pain. Price, twenty-five cents a bottle.

WHEN going from a warm atmosphere into a cooler one keep the mouth closed so that the air may be warmed in its passage through the nose ere it reaches the lungs.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

404 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87.
The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist said "plasters are all about the same" but I don't think so now. I strained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. Mrs. WILLIS MAGILL.

Uncle Jerry Rusk of Wisconsin.

The western candidates for the Republican nomination are sufficiently numerous, but it does not appear that more than one or two of them have much strength.

It may be that Mr. Blaine's friends will prefer that he should not stand aside, even voluntarily, to make room for another Republican statesman. It may be that they will decide, in case the Democratic wrestling with the surplus problem should reduce the surplus and not the Democratic party, that a vigorous and picturesque personality, unhackneyed and unconventional, would more successfully appeal to popular favor than any of the better known figures.

In that case, Jeremiah Rusk, of Wisconsin, might be the man. He appears to have at least the Jacksonian characteristic of doing his duty promptly as he sees it. He is bluff, vigorous in language and action, unspoiled by schools, a diamond in the rough. It would be easy to write an attractive campaign life of such a man. Jerry, the foe of the Anarchists, hearty old Uncle Jerry, the people's Jerry, could be set out in showy colors. Friends of order and property would be asked to rally around him. Jerry certainly would be great fun.

Put on with him for the intellectual part of the ticket a man like Phelps, of New Jersey, and you would have a showy ticket. Mr. Phelps would do finance and the tariff, while Governor Rusk did the rising from poverty to affluence by his unaided efforts, and showed that he was unpledged and unterrified.

Rusk and Phelps, a grand and glittering platform and plenty of music by the band.—New York Sun.

Sherman Tries to Explain.

Senator Sherman is in trouble over his Nashville and Springfield speeches. A Nashville admirer has written him a letter, imploring him to explain that he did not mean at Springfield exactly the opposite of what he said at Nashville. This the senator undertakes to do in a letter, in which he praises the honesty and courage of the Confederates, while denouncing the Democracy of the north.

Senator Sherman's explanation does not explain. Every intelligent man knows that the Nashville speech was made to increase his popularity in the south, while his Springfield utterance was intended to please the Bourbon irreconcilables, who insist on fighting the war till the crack of doom. If there had been no newspapers or telegraphs to spread the two speeches and invite every reader to make comparisons—in short, if this were not the Nineteenth century—Mr. Sherman would not have been called upon to explain the unexplainable and make a mess of it.

The senator from Ohio is pretty old to learn anything new, but he should be able to comprehend that the methods of Mr. Facing-both-ways cannot be successfully employed in this age of newspapers and newspaper readers. A public man cannot say one thing in Tennessee and exactly the opposite in Illinois without being found out.—Philadelphia Times.

Let Us Repeat It.

Let us hope that the next St. Louis convention will rival the last St. Louis convention in the elements which compose it. That of 1876 was in all ways Democratic. There was not a flaw upon its representative character, or its honorable and patriotic purposes. The nomination of Tilden was procured without the outlay of a penny, or any unworthy dicker. It was the logic of the situation that the eminent reform governor of the Empire state should be the reform candidate of his party for chief magistrate of the nation. Though there seemed to be a contest, there was, in reality, none at all. At least two days before the assembling of the convention the friends of Mr. Tilden knew that they had everything in their own hands, and the little friction made by Tammany Hall merely added a zest to the occasion and lifted it out of the dullness of monotony. The sparring between John Kelly and John Morrissey was beautiful. But the gloves were on and nobody was hurt by it.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Vacillating John Sherman.

Candidate John Sherman strongly reminds one of the position of the down east candidate for office who laid down his platform to the voters from the stump with the remark: "Them's my sentiments. I hope they will suit; but, if they don't suit, they can be altered." That is just Senator Sherman's attitude toward the Chinese question. His course didn't suit California. He proceeds to alter it as rapidly and as radically as possible. Not content with this, he also writes a letter to a gentleman in Nashville, in which he undertakes to explain that his assault upon the south did not mean half what it appears to on its face, and then proceeds to "alter" his attitude in this respect also. If John Sherman isn't president, it will not be for lack of trying. If at first he don't succeed, he tries, tries again, and if one tack is not a promising tack for the purpose; he is not at all above trying another.—Boston Herald.

A Party of Negation.

About the richest thing which has appeared in recent political discussion is the declaration by The St. Louis Globe-Democrat that the Democratic party is nothing more than "an organized negation."

This is certainly a unique charge from the organ of a party which today has not one positive principle except of blind partisan opposition to all that Democracy stands for.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Plenty of Republican Asses.

Congressman Phelps says that in 1884 the Republican party was defeated by the jawbone of an ass. It appears that in 1888 the old party is to be defeated by the jawbones of a vast company of asses simultaneously in action.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Won't Let Him.

It is funny that Mr. Blaine cannot, if he wants to, get out of the way. His friends have a sad way of sticking to him. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

And Getting Nothing.

Mr. Blaine does not want to be overworked in "claiming everything" after election day.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Now Is the Time.

It is time now to decide who is with us and who is against us. — Louisville Courier-Journal.

His Reynard Wit.

Mr. Depew still professes to think it will be Blaine. Depew is foxy.—Boston Herald.

You Bet.

The Democrats are in splendid fighting condition.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Small Size of Great Men.

That good goods are often made up into small parcels is an ancient truism. It is equally true, though paradoxical, that many of the world's greatest men have been small. "Little Phil Sheridan," that name is a household word. The Iron Duke of Wellington was often twitted with his small stature and great nose. Bonaparte was even shorter. Gen. Lord Wolseley is ridiculously small. There is a mistaken impression abroad that England's "Grand Old Man," Gladstone, is a tall man. His portraits certainly all give that idea. The sage of Hawarden, the mighty ax wielder, the still mightier orator, is a spare, wiry man of five feet eight or nine inches at most.—New York Press "Every Day Talk."

Fish as a "Brain Food."

"Fish," says Dr. W. W. Godding, of Washington, "has for years enjoyed the reputation of being rich in phosphorus and hence adapted to the growth of brains. How such a notion originated I do not know; perhaps because stale fish shines with a phosphorescent light in the dark. As a food, fish is richer in water than in phosphorus, and to feed it to children, expecting thereby to grow them into philosophers, would be on a par with the scholar who boiled his dictionary in milk for supper, hoping thus to acquire the language. As a matter of fact physiological experiments, often repeated on a large scale, rather negative the popular idea of the value of fish as a 'brain food.'" —Public Opinion.

The peculiar purifying and building up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla make it the very best medicine to take at this season.

A Shrewd Attempt.

Mr. Halstead declares in The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette that he finds here in the east a strong Republican combination against John Sherman, now that Blaine is out of the contest for the presidency. Is this a shrewd attempt to create the impression that Sherman really has a chance?—New York World.

They Are Coming to It.

If the Republican press of Indiana keeps on, it will demonstrate to the satisfaction of everybody, long before the convention meets, that neither Harrison nor Gresham can carry Indiana. And that is just the fact.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Another Boom Gone Up.

The Ben Harrison boom has caught on a jagged projection in his record and torn wide open. He voted against the Chinese bill in 1882. Gone to join Blaine, Sheridan, Fred Grant and Lincoln.—St. Louis Republican.

Says What He Believes.

Ingalls, of the Grasshopper state, maintains that it is "the right of every American citizen to aspire to the highest office in the land." Was e'er a maiden half so coy?—Philadelphia Times.

Read and Reflect.

The more Democrats that have been put in place the cleaner the administra has become.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sherman Thinks Not.

Is there anything about the presidency that a citizen should be afraid of it?—New York Herald.

Evolution of a Diamond.

Carbon has now been yielded by meteorites in three stages of development. Uncrystallized graphite has long been known as a constituent of meteoric irons and stones, and graphite crystals were recently found in a metoric iron from western Australia, while the report has just been made that small diamond corpuscles have been obtained from a meteoric stone which fell in Russia in 1886. It is suggested that these discoveries may point out the road to the artificial production of the diamond.—Frank Leslie's

Hon. C. Edwards Lester,

DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass.,

Gentlemen:—A sense of gratitude and the desire to render a service to the public impel me to make the following statements:

My college career, at New Haven, was interrupted by a severe cold which so enfeebled me that, for ten years, I had a hard struggle for life. Hemorrhage from the bronchial passages was the result of almost every fresh exposure. For years I was under treatment of the ablest practitioners without avail. At last I learned of which I used (moderately and in small doses) at the first recurrence of a cold or any chest difficulty, and from which I invariably found relief. This was over 25 years ago. With all sorts of exposure, in all sorts of climates, I have never, to this day, had any cold nor any affection of the throat or lungs which did not yield to AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL within 24 hours.

Of course I have never allowed myself to be without this remedy in all my voyages and travels. Under my own observation, it has given relief to vast numbers of persons; while in acute cases of pulmonary inflammation, such as croup and diphtheria in children, life has been preserved through its effects. I recommend its use in light but frequent doses. Properly administered, in accordance with your directions, it is in any house. I speak earnestly because I feel earnestly. I have known many cases of apparently confirmed bronchitis and cough, with loss of voice, particularly among clergymen and other public speakers, perfectly cured by this medicine. Faithfully yours,

C. EDWARDS LESTER.

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

Yesterday was the anniversary of St. Ulrich, the discoverer of sauer kraut, according to the Staats Zeitung historian. Colonel Frank Leonard, of the Gazette, observed the event and a gorgeous cabbage head adorned his front. Ravenous cows gazed with envy on Colonel Leonard, but his appearance is proof against an attack.

Rev. J. M. Dorney's lecture at Library hall Saturday night is highly spoken of. The musical program was a very pleasing feature of the evening. Miss Buckley's solo, the chorus singing and piano solo were very pretty. Miss Buckley has a promising voice and sings charmingly. The entertainment was a very fitting close to the occasion which was so admirably observed by Irish Americans.

Died, Sunday morning at 1 o'clock, Mrs. Sylvia A. Unger, at the residence of Mr. Alexander Austin, No. 39 West Fourth street, aged sixty-four years. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 9:30 at Prairie Grove cemetery. Mrs. Unger was an estimable and highly esteemed lady. She formerly lived in Fort Wayne, but for a number of years has been residing on her farm in Pleasant township. She was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Austin, when her death occurred.

Several very large capitalists in New York city—among them Christopher Meyer, Sidney Dillon, Russell Sage and and others—have united themselves together for the purpose of voting their several holdings of stock in the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad at the coming election in June, to elect a board that will pay off the present indebtedness of the road and to place it in good financial shape, also to put the Dayton, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway in good financial condition.

Our people are on the qui vive anticipating the opening of the beautiful salesrooms so elaborately fitted up by Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max. Judging from present indications the near future promises to more fully surprise the expectations of the public. Beyond question no business establishment in the country will surpass it in elegance of decorations, richness of furniture, illuminated glass and artistic ensemble. Mr. Max Nirdlinger was given carte blanche, and all know what that signifies. Every effort is being made to throw open this magnificent building for public reception, Thursday evening, March 29, from 7 to 9 o'clock. Music, flowers and lovely souvenirs for everybody. REV. T. J. BACHER

Resigns the Pastorship of the Grace Reformed Church, of This City.

At the close of his sermon yesterday morning, Rev. T. J. Bacher, the pastor of the Grace Reformed church, announced from the pulpit his resignation, which is to take effect next Sunday. This action on his part is due to the continued ill health of Mrs. Bacher, whom the doctors have advised to seek a different climate.

The announcement of his resignation, although known to a few of the official members, was a suprise to the large congregation present. It fell as a sad piece of news upon them and many were the words of regret and sorrow that were expressed as they pressed forward to clasp the hand of their beloved pastor.

Rev. Bacher came to this city five years ago and organized the Grace Reformed congregation. They had no place of worship and for a time the congregation held services in a rented hall. By the untiring efforts of their pastor they have built a beautiful church edifice on East Washington street, costing $12,000, and what is more to the credit of the pastor, the last $500 of the debt incurred will have been paid before his resignation takes effect. The congregation is now one of the most flourishing church organizations of the city, numbers a membership of 184 and has a brilliant and promising future before it.

Rev. Bacher is one of the most brilliant young ministers of the city. As a pulpit orator, is earnest and eloquent, while as a pastor he is universally loved, and numbers his friends both inside and out of church circles. His resignation will be universally regretted and to none more so than the attendants of the little Grace church, among whose membership he is so deservedly popular. He leaves the church and the city with the highest regard of all and THE SENTINEL joins with his many friends in wishing him success in his future fields of labor.

TWO CASUALTIES.

Pat Quinn and Tom Shaughnessy Hurt on the Railroads.

A few minutes after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, while endeavoring to make a coupling in the east yards, Pat Quinn, living at 90 Thomas street, was thrown under the cars and run over, and his left leg and left arm were horribly mangled.

The new patrol wagon was pressed into ambulance duty and the unfortunate man was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. Stemen attended him, and found an amputation of the members necessary.

The operation was in vain, however, despite the physician's efforts in his behalf, and he died a few hours afterward. Mr. Quinn was a married man and leaves a wife and four children.

Tommy Shaughnessy was injured yesterday by falling from the top of a car, at the Wabash water tank. The wheels passed over his right arm. His arm was amputated yesterday by Drs. Myers and Lipes, at the St. Joseph hospital. He is doing nicely. Shaughnessy is fourteen years old and the son of a widow, Mrs. Martin Shaughnessy.

MRS. LANGAN.

Her Death After Living Fifty Years in Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Langan, relict of the late Michael Langan, died Saturday evening very suddenly at the residence of George Baer, No. 80 Creighton avenue.

The folks were at church when the lady died and returning found her body on the couch. She was eighty years of age and death come from exhaustion.

Mrs. Langan came to Fort Wayne over fifty years ago, when this now populous city was a wilderness. Her husband was a well digger and old inhabitants will recall him as well as his wife, whose remarkable residence of half a century is without a parallel.

The funeral of the venerable pioneer lady will occur to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral.

THE LUTHERANS

Organize a Mutual Aid and Insurance Society.

Representatives of the St. Pauls, Emanuels and the Zion Lutheran churches met at Carpenters' hall last night and organized a mutual aid and insurance society. Mr. Fred Schmetzer presided at the meeting, which appointed a committee of five members, consisting of William Schmidt, Michael Wessell, John Busch, Chales Buck and Fred Schmetzer, to draft a constitution and plan of organization to report to a similar meeting next Sunday.

The meeting last night was largely attended and great interest was manifested.

Mrs. Christian Weller, of Walton avenue, died Saturday evening of lung fever, aged sixty-six years. She was a widow. Her funeral occurs to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Week Commences With a Dull Day and News Does Not Loom Up in Great Shape.

The trains were on time yesterday.

Fred Miller, of the Pittsburg freight office, is quite ill.

James Wells, a machinist living on Murray street, is very ill.

J. R. Metzner, a Grand Rapids conductor, is on the sick list.

The employes in the shops had the spring fever this morning.

M. J. Diehl, a popular engineer of Chicago, spent Sunday in the city.

Bert Hartman, of the Jenney electric light company, is ill with diphtheria.

Albert Laurens, has again taken a position in the Jenney Electric Light works.

Charley Cherry, the clerk at the Pittsburg works, has purchased a handsome new bicycle.

Some of the boys in the shops have not yet recovered from the celebration of St. Patrick's day.

The Horton manufacturing company have commenced to work upon an order for 2,000 corn planters.

The electric light works are crowded with work and the busy establishment have a night force on duty.

Jacob Strown, of the Wabash railroad, has recovered from his sickness and resumed his position at the depots.

O. E. Jenkins, traveling passenger agent of the New York Central & Hudson River line, was in the city yesterday.

A cyclone of quietness seems to have struck the railroad and manufacturing establishments and news is uncommonly dull.

Charles Gilbert, a former fireman on the Wabash, has gone to Dubuque, Iowa, to take a similar position in that state.

Officer Limecooley reports police duty as very dull around the depots for the last few days—a state of things he likes to see, however.

The officials of the Pennsylvania company have issued orders forbidding bicycles being ridden between the tracks of the company's yards in this city.

It is reported upon good authority that two of the young lady employes of the electric light works will shortly resign their positions for the purpose of getting married.

The rumor that the Pittsburg works were to start up again with a full force, as stated in Saturday's SENTINEL, to commence work upon a new order of locomotives from the east, created a sensation. We have reason to believe it is true. If such is the case many of the recently discharged employes will be taken back again.

Mr. James Dickson, the well known engineer on the Pittsburg road, is the chairman of the local grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He spent some time in consultation with his brethren, at Chicago, last week, and left again yesterday for that place to meet with the executive grievance committee, who are in session there deliberating on the Burlington strike.

A railroad manager of large experience, and who has been in nearly every branch of railroad service, remarked, yesterday, that what he most feared was the reaction, should the strike become more general. He said that he was years in educating his directors up to the idea of paying trainmen well for their services, and wages had been steadily advanced and well maintained. On most first-class roads men are now paid on the mileage basis, and, if disposed to work, could average $130 a month the year round; in fact, on their road some of the engineers made $140 to $150 a month. The trouble was that these strikes cut down revenues, and, with reduced revenues, there was great danger that reduction in wages would follow. At any rate, this was a phase of the situation which it would be well for the striking engineers and firemen to consider.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

A THREAD has been produced from the common nettle so fine that a length of sixty miles weighs only two and one-half pounds.

PAPER containing ligneous substances, such as straw, wood, and jute, is rapidly discolored by electric light. The following is due to the phenomenon of oxidation.

GERMAN experiments have shown that cast-iron pillars remain nearly upright and sustain their load in very hot fires, while those of wrought-iron bend to such a degree as to be valueless as supports.

AN attempt to infuse new vigor into the degenerating potato by crossing the cultivated varieties with the wild plant has been for two or three seasons in progress at Reading, England, and has proven very successful thus far. The hybrid plants produce a good yield of tubers of excellent form and quality.

THE old idea that sufferers from heart disease should avoid physical exertion has been dispelled by Prof. Oertel, who has successfully employed regulated exercise in the treatment of some forms. In a large proportion of cases, the nutrition of the cardiac muscle, as of the muscular system generally, is thus improved.

WAX a piece of buttonhole twist about two and one-half feet long. It will surprise you with the sweetness and variety of the tones the wind will bring from it.

THE Royal Society of London furnishes some interesting examples of the longevity of men distinguished for scientific work. The average age of the fourteen fellows who died during the year was 75 years, the youngest, Dr. Wilson Fox, being 50, and the oldest, Admiral Denham and Dr. Richard Quain, being 87.

ATTENTION has just been called in a scientific paper to two races of men that must soon become extinct. It is confidently predicted that at the present rate of decrease the Maoris of New Zealand, now reduced to less than 45,000 men, from 100,000 in Capt. Cook's days, must have disappeared by the year 2000. The Laplanders are estimated not to exceed 30,000 in numbers, and are gradually becoming fewer.

DR. T. LANGDON DOWN, inquiring into the causes of idiocy, has found that intemperance of parents is one of the most considerable factors in producing the affection. His view is confirmed by some French and German investigators, one of whom, Dr. Delasiauve, has said that in the village of Caromet, whose riches were in its vineyards, ten years' comparative sobriety, enforced by vine disease, had a sensible effect in diminishing the cases of idiocy. Nervous constitution and consumption exercise important influence.

THE Russian weather-observing system is the most extensive on the globe, and embraces remarkable climatic contrasts. It has two principal observatories and 255 subordinate stations, and its latest report gives rainfall observations for 650 localities. Many of the stations have lately been added, and one of those, Werchojansk in Siberia, is now recorded as the coldest point known on earth. The mean temperature for the year 1885 was 29 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, for January and December it was 62.9 degrees below, and for July it rose to 60.6 degrees above zero. The lowest temperature in July was 39.2 degrees above, while in January a fall of 88.6 degrees below zero was experienced. Werchojansk is in latitude 67 degrees 34 minutes, longitude 133 degrees 51 minutes.

THE STRIKE.

Engineers and Firemen of the Santa Fe Resume Work, and Their Trouble is Over.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19.—The Santa Fe strike is over. The following official notice was issued at 6 o'clock last evening:

"KANSAS CITY, March 18, 1888.

"To the Engineers and Firemen of the Santa Fe System:

"I am advised by our grand chief to request of you that you return to your respective positions at once; further, that I proceed to Chicago and adjust all misunderstanding. I. COMMON,

"Chairman General Grievance Committee."

Trains were moved yesterday with some regularity.

The trains on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Gulf road all went out on time yesterday, with no indications of trouble.

On the Burlington the trains are all running on time.

The depot presented a deserted appearance all day, as there was little interest taken in the movements of trains and the general feeling was that the strike was over.

As one of the men mounted his engine to take out the train of an old engineer standing in a group near by he turned to his companions and said: "Well, boys, fall in. The last man to go back will be the one who gets left. It is only a matter of time now."

His prediction was verified when at six o'clock Chairman Conroe's notice was issued. The men took the matter philosophically, and last evening nearly all of them at present in the city were applying to Assistant Superintendent Spoor for orders, transportation, etc.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, March 19.—Acting upon the advice of the court, Receiver Dudley this morning closed the shops and general offices of the Central Iowa railway in this city, laying off all the employes here and along the line, except enough to guard the property and handle the passenger service.

This is the result of the tie-up of freight traffic and is the receiver's only alternative, as without the freight earnings there would be nothing to meet the pay roll. Notice has been given the striking engineers to report at 8 o'clock to-morrow for work or be discharged.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 19.—Four hundred engineers and firemen, representing twenty-two division and having ten thousand members, met here last night to discuss the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy strike. A resolution was adopted indorsing the strike and pledging "financial and other aid, consistent with the principals of our order," when called upon.

KANSAS CITY, March 19.—All the passenger trains on the Santa Fe go out on time. This morning, at the freight yards, all is activity and switch engines are darting around, making up trains as rapidly as possible, and every effort is being made to relieve the freight blockade.

No. 3 passenger train, which leaves at 10 a. m., stands on the track, with the regular engineer in the cab. A steady rain has been falling all morning. The depot is deserted by all all except those who are there on business.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 19.—There are numerous rumors of impending troubles on nearly all the roads centering here.

"THE LILLIE."

How the New Police Patrol Wagon Was Christened.

It was agreed some days ago to name the new police wagon in honor of its first victim.

Saturday night Chief Diehl officially announced the system in operation. He sat by the instrument waiting and watching. Finally Officer Jim Sheridan sent in a patrol alarm. The wagon responded on Chicago street, manned by Chief Diehl and Lieutenant Wilkinson, with George Swain holding ribbons over the team.

Unconscious of the approach of the police posse, William Lillie was industriously pelting with stones a boarding house from which he had been ejected.

Quicker than it takes to tell it he was whirled to the station house. This settled the name of the wagon and it was duly christened "The Lillie." A rather pretty name it is, too.

Twenty-five Killed.

BLACKSBURG, Ga., March 19.—An accident without a parallel in the history of railroads occurred one mile north of here at 10 o'clock Saturday by the falling of the bridge over Alappa river on the S., F. and W. railroad, wrecking the south-bound passenger train, killing twenty-five passengers and employes instantly and wounding thirty five more, some of whom died the same night. Among the wounded were Gen. E. P. Wilbur, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad; also George J. Gould and wife, but fortunately not serious.

CHICAGO PAINTERS!

They Inaugurate a Strike One Thousand, Seven Hundred Strong This Morning.

CHICAGO, March 19.—About 1,700 of 2,300 union painters in the city went out on a strike to-day for a uniform rate of thirty-seven and one-half cents per hour.

The master workman says that twenty-four out of the fifty-two principal shops had given in and that others were holding back to see what action the other big shops would take.

BRUTAL CRIME.

Atrocious Deed of a Robber, Who Beats an Old Couple and Fires Their House.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 19.—The whole country around here is terribly excited over a brutal crime which was committed near Trumansburg. Robert Barber, a farm hand, went to the home of Richard Mason, an old man over seventy, and after horribly beating him with a club, he attacked Mason's wife and beat her head into a shapeless mass of bleeding flesh. Barber then poured the contents of the lamp over the couple, set the house on fire, and fled.

Mason recovered sufficiently to crawl from the burning building into a snow drift, but his wife's body was burned to a cinder. The blaze attracted the neighbors and Mason told them the story of the crime. Five hundred excited farmers were soon scouring the country and before morning Barber was captured and is now in jail in this city. It is reported that a mob is being organized at Trumansburg to come to Ithaca to-night and lynch Barber. Old man Mason cannot live many hours. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive for the crime.

BLOWN UP.

A Saloon Wrecked With Giant Powder.

MARION, Ind., March 19.—The third attempt within a year to blow up the saloon of Jasper N. Watson, of Jonesboro, occurred Saturday. The bomb, which was evidently laid on the front door step, was loaded with giant powder and the front of the building was badly wrecked and adjacent window lights were shattered. The responsibility for this piece of vandalism is laid at the door of crank prohibitionists, who predominate largely in the neighborhood of Jonesboro and who believe any means justifiable that will accomplish their ends.

THE POOR HOUSE.

Supt. John Wilkinson Makes His Semi-Annual Report.

This morning, Supt. John Wilkinson, of the poor farm, filed with board of commissioners an admirable account of his stewardship, from September 1, 1887, to March 1, 1888, just six months.

The personal property on the farm inventories, $3,058.61.

September 1, 1887, there were seventy-seven inmates in the infirmary. During the past six months, sixty-five new applicants were admitted, fifty-four were discharged, four were born there, five died there, making the total number cared for in the half a year 142, an average of one per day.

The total expenditures for six months were $2,915.95, making the daily expense of the institution, $16.03.1, or nineteen cents and seventy-seven mills per head for inmates.

Beat this splendid showing if you can.

Ohio's Case.

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—The argument in the tally sheet forgery case was adjourned to this morning, when Mills, of Chicago, who is making the closing speech, will conclude. He has been talking since Friday noon.

A Compliment to Home Talent.

Prof. G. W. Dawson of the firm of Dawson & Kern, of this city, was honored by the Story & Clark Organ company, of Chicago, in being chosen harmonist to write the grand march for this enterprising firm. Prof. Dawson had the manuscript ready for the press in just one day and a half from the time he received the appointment. A letter from Story & Clark is in the Professor's hands, which expresses their great delight and satisfaction with his masterly effort. This is indeed a great compliment to Fort Wayne talent. As the Professor is a modest man, he is not inclined to boast of his musical ability and skillfulness. A city pastor having heard of this worthy letter of commendation dropped in this morning to hear this march and he was so pleased with the the production that he at once reported the above to THE SENTINEL.

THE BELL WINS!

The United States Supreme Court Sustains the Bell Telephone Patents by a Vote of 4 to 3.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The decision of the supreme court in the telephone case has been announced and is in favor of the Bell Telephone company. Justice Bradley is reading an opinion dissenting from the decision of the court. Justices Field and Harlan dissent and Justices Gray and Lamar did not sit in the case. The Bell patents are, therefore, sustained by a majority of one, the court standing four to three. The dissent of Justices Bradley, Field and Harlan is based upon the Drawbaugh claim.

These three justices are of the opinion that the evidence overwhelmingly shows that Drawbaugh was the first inventor of the speaking telephone, although he was unconscious of it and was not aware of its importance.

LESLIE M'OUNE.

Her Mother Proposes to go Into the Courts to Secure the Child.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Mrs. Libby Culbertson McOune, of No. 140 East Twelfth street, whose ten-year-old daughter was recently kidnapped in broad daylight from the street in front of her residence and hurried off to Ironton, Ohio, has retained Howe & Hummel to care for her interests here, and Ralph H. Leete, of Ironton, to prosecute her claim there, and she says she proposes to make an earnest effort to recover her daughter and to punish the men who were engaged in the kidnapping.

Mrs. McOune is assured by her lawyer at Ironton that many of the best citizens of the place are with her. Mrs. McOune's stage name was Maria Burton. After she came here with the child, she left the stage in order to devote herself entirely to its care, and has since supported herself by giving music lessons.

AFTER THE GIRLS.

The Wicklifts and Monroe Houses Raided by the Police.

Last night, the patrol wagon whirled a posse of police to the Oliver house and arrested Mrs. Wicklifts and nine inmates, four women and six men in all. The girls gave up $18 each, and all but one of the men put up like sums at the police station, whither they were taken in the wagon.

The home of Annie Monroe was next called on and three women and two men were found. They produced $18 each.

They were all recorded as forfeitures at the mayor's court, this morning, in the presence of a big lobby.

JOHN SMALLEY

Arrested for Stealing a Horse Four Years Ago.

Something like four years ago John Smalley, alias Kasher, hired a horse from Luce Stapleford and driving to Bull Rapids sold the animal.

He was indicted but fled the country. He came back Saturday. Mr. Stapleford heard it and told the officers. Today Sheriff Viberg landed the fellow in jail.

TRYING TO RELEASE MURDERERS.

A Friend Takes an Impression of the County Jail Lock.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., March 19.—Sheriff Bratton, of this county, said that some one had taken an impression of the lock to the county jail office, in which the case containing the keys to the cells is kept. The jail contains two prisoners charged with cold-blooded murder, and a well-known friend of one of the them is suspected of being anxious to liberate both. Extra precaution is being used to make the cast taken valueless.

FROM THE WINDOWS

Many People Leaped to Escape the Fiery Element--One Person Killed and Many Injured.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The Elberson flats, at the corner of Eighty-sixth street and Madison avenue, was burned this morning about 7 o'clock. There was great excitement and many people jumped out of the windows. Mrs. Frances Westlake, a widow, was killed. Five others were badly hurt, and burned. Assistant Fireman Quirk was badly hurt by the fall of a ladder, while rescuing a child from a window of the burning dwelling.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19.—A fire last night on Bay street burned the Bradley fertilizer warehouse, Haseltone & Lovingston's warehouse, the Debarry steamship offices and the wharf. The total loss is about $125,000.

RED CLOUD.

An Indian Chief Out on a Little Lark.

Thomas Red Cloud, who is a sort of Indian chief with Dr. White Cloud's party, was out on a "lark" last night and managed to surround more "fire water" than he could carry.

In some way the warrior brave got into the residence of Mr. Abraham Oppenheimer, on West Berry street.

When the housemaid and her lover sauntered into the yard they spied the chief peacefully slumbering in the sitting room. They gave the alarm, the patrol wagon responded and Red Cloud was wafted off to the cooler.

The fellow was awful drunk, and as no villainous intent could be attributed to his act, the mayor fined him $1 and costs, $13 in all. Red Cloud paid and is still in the ring.

Didn't Stand Together.

A negro Justice of the Peace called on a Circuit Judge.

"Come in, 'Squire," said the Judge. "What can I do for you?"

The 'Squire sat down and twirled his thumbs. "I say what can I do for you, 'Squire?"

"Oh, I know what yer said," giving to his eyes that slow and tremulous squint which, with a negro, is expressive of disgust. "I know what yer said, an' I also knows what yer's done. What made yer ask dater way in dat hangh case?"

"What hog case?"

"W'y, dat case twixt Simons an' Boyle. I 'cided it in de fabor o' Boyle but when it wuz fotch up yere w'y yerse'f 'verses de 'cision an' gins it ter Simons."

This is the anniversary of the battle of Bentonville, fought twenty-three years ago by General Sherman's army. The Eighty-eighth Indiana regiment, under command of Capt. F. F. Bolts, opened that engagement. Captain Swann, Captain Hollopeter, and others were in the fight.

"A Wonderful Country" was the subject of the sermon preached yesterday morning by Rev. D. C. Woolpert, at the Berry Street M. E. church, and in treating of it he used the term to represent the eternal home of the Christian. It was an excellent sermon and was well received by the large audience present.

The Baptist church had the largest audience of the winter, last evening, and Pastor Northrop preached an interesting sermon to the immense congregation. The singing is one of the interesting features of the evening worship of this church. There are nearly one hundred voices in the choir, and with the quartet choir, the musical service of the Baptists is difficult to excel anywhere.

One of the light Brahma hens belonging to Mr. George P. Gordon, the baggage master at the Pittsburg depot, is certainly entitled to ribbons. Last week it laid an egg measuring seven and three-fourths inches one way and nine and seven-eighths inches the other, and what is more remarkable, when broken open, it was found to contain another perfectly formed egg with the shell complete. Such a hen as that is not found every day in the week.

The official announcement has just been made that the Wells Fargo Express company have absorbed the Erie Express. This company was operated by the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad, combining the Lake Erie & Wheeling and Chicago & Atlantic, giving them quite a territory between New York and Chicago. This new deal in express service gives the Wells Fargo company a through trans-continental line from New York to San Francisco, Cal., and the only through system in the country. Mr. H. C. Shimuch, who was formerly agent for the Adams and American here, is agent for that company at Chicago.

E. A. K. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

MONDAY, MARCH 19, 1888.

THE gravel road question is warming up.

ST. PATRICK'S day was very properly observed in this city.

VOTE at the democratic township primaries to-morrow afternoon.

KEEP an eye on the township elections. This is the first skirmish of the great battle of 1888.

Travel is mortgaged and taxed in Allen county. It is surprising that some people are content to conform to this sort of highway robbery.

THE democratic state central committee of Illinois was in session the other day and failed to endorse Gen. J. C. Black or Hon. Wm. R. Morrison for the vice-presidency.

ATTEND the Wayne township primary elections to-morrow and see to it that good delegates are chosen. In the country the polls are open from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and in the city from 4 to 7 in the evening.

THE Johnson City (Kansas) World, of March 8, comes out in an editorial endorsement of Gov. Isaac P. Gray for vice president on the ticket with Cleveland, and says that the Kansas delegation to the St. Louis convention will be instructed for him.

The Mills bill, among other things, by putting coal on the free list, the Chicago Tribune says that "all New England could thus get cheaper fuel and power coal from the Pictou mines in Nova Scotia, and the Canadian retaliatory tariff on coal would be repealed, thus opening a new field of export to the coal operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois."

CHICAGO is to have a new democratic morning paper, The Globe. The first issue will appear about April 1st and it will be a straight party organ. Gen. Newbery, Erskine M. Phillips and other prominent democrats are large stockholders, and it is claimed that it will have a paid in capital of $250,000. It will be an eight page and will be edited by gentlemen who were for years Wilbur F. Storey's lieutenants. A. L. Patterson will be the business manager and Charles R. Dennett, managing editor.

THE Indianapolis Journal remarks: "Lieutenant Governor Robertson, in a general conversation on political matters said: 'It is supposed that during the winter I have been actively engaged in pushing a personal canvass for governor. I have traveled over the state considerably, it is true, but I went to no points except on business outside of politics. The only two occasions where politics was partly cause of the visits was when I addressed two political clubs. I would not have been here were it not for my lecture date at Plymouth church. I am off again early to-morrow morning to attend to legal business.'

THERE promises to be trouble over the proposed Indiana soldiers' monument. The design of Bruno Schmitz, the Berlin, Germany, architect, was accepted, but when he arrived to superintend the work it was found that his monument could not be erected for the $200,000 provided by law, but that it would cost $300,000; whereupon he proceeded to cut down the design as to make it come within the appropriation. Architect Shearer, whose design is said to have been the second choice, and whose monument could have been built with the $200,000 appropriated, claims that the proceedings regarding the Schmitz design have been illegal, and an injunction to prevent the execution of a contract is probable.

THE iron roofing trust is organized and legalized for robbery under cover of the tariff laws, with a powerful combination back of it. The tax on tin plate is one cent a pound and yields a revenue of from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 and increases the price thirty per cent. The iron roofing trust now thinks if the duty is advanced to two and one-fourth cents a pound, or 125 per cent., it will be prohibitory, and, giving the trust exclusive control of the market, the money that is now paid into the treasury would be paid to the government of the trust. Thus they could grind the American workmen and dealers, import pauper labor and take $6,000,000 or $10,000,000 from the pockets of the people to the treasury of the National Iron Roofing trust.

DR. MCGLYNN denies that he has appealed to Rome for a rehearing in his case, though he admits that he has hopes in that direction. He says: "I have no quarrel with the doctrines or the sacraments of the Catholic Church, but in the best interest of the Catholic religion I make a clear distinction between these things and the policies and politics of churchmen, which policies and politics may be not only blundering but criminal."

THE FAITH CURE.

A Sermon Delivered Upon the Subject By Rev. D. S. Kennedy Last Evening.

The theme taken by Rev. D. S. Kennedy, of the Third Presbyterian church, for his discourse last evening was "The Faith Cure." The subject possesses an interest because it is pushing its way to popular belief among certain classes and so many remarkable cases of it are given publication in the newspapers of the country.

As practiced and believed, the speaker said, he did not think it was in accordance with the teachings of Scripture. The power to heal the sick by faith was given to Christ and his apostles, but with the passing away of Apostolic times disappeared this method of healing the sick and the halt and the maimed and the blind, just as the time for the performance of miracles had gone forever.

In those early days of Christianity it was bestowed upon the apostles by God for the purpose of establishing the word, but that such miraculous powers were possessed, or could be practiced now, he did not believe for an instant. The exigency that existed then did not exist now, and it was safe to say that those persons who claimed this power at the present time were either humbugs or laboring under a mistaken idea.

That cures were sometimes made by faith he did not doubt, but it was not the "faith upon faith," or the faith in prayer. It was the influence of the mind over the body and existed only in those cases where the ailment was a mental one or resulted from some nervous affection. Instances of this kind may occur. The body, with a strong will power, can often fight off disease, and a hopeful, determined mind can dispel nervous and imaginary affections, but that faith could cure a rooted disease was unreasonable, unphilosophical and had no foundation in the scriptures.

The speaker did not want to be understood as doubting the faith in Christian prayer. He believed that the prayer of the Godly man availeth much if uttered in the spirit of the scripture, "Not my will, but Thine, O, Lord." Prayer uttered for the sick in such a frame of mind will be effective if it is God's will that the patient should recover, but if such is not the case it could have no curative power except in the cases mentioned above.

If you require a spring medicine, if you are suffering with languor, debility, pimples, boils, catarrh, chronic sores, scrofula, or loss of appetite, or any disease arising from impure blood, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the safest and most economical of all blood purifiers.

ASSOCIATED PRESS.

How It Braved the Recent Blizzard in the East.

CINCINNATI, March 16.—The following telegram sent to the Western Union Telegraph Co., explains itself:

"To Thomas T. Eckert, Vice President W. U. Tel. Co., New York.

"I have been instructed by the joint executive committee to notify you of their appreciation of the favor shown to the press during the past week. The good judgment and energy exhibited in keeping always a way open for the information of the public through the press, notwithstanding the extraordinary difficulties, cannot be too highly praised.

"The storm was the most disastrous ever known within our experience and only a great organization, such as the Western Union Telegraph company, could enable us to reach nearly every section in our own country and the four quarters of the globe, day after day, while other methods of communication were cut off.

[Signed.] WM. HENRY SMITH,

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Wanted Smuggled Goods.

She asked for lace of a certain kind, and the clerk took down a box and excused the small quantity in it by saying:

"We sold a great quantity of this the other day at wholesale."

"This is exactly like my sample, isn't it?"

"Yes'm. You must have bought that here."

"Oh, no, sir—I bought it of a peddler."

"Ah!"

"And I paid him 14 cents per yard, while you only charge six."

"I see. He told you—?"

"That it was smuggled over from Canada."

"Exactly. We sell to a number who go about telling the same story, but of course we are not responsible."

"I—I—!"

"Just so, ma'am. I know just how you feel about it, but being a woman, you can neither swear at yourself nor kick the man for a liar. Will you sit down in the back end of the store until your emotion subsides? No! Ah, well, call again. Nothing else to-day?"—Detroit Free Press.

Bogus Baking Powder Tests.

Rather ingenious but not less fraudulent are the pretended tests of baking powder being made in many of our kitchens by agents who are trying to further the sale of a Chicago article. These so-called tests consist in mixing separately, with water, a sample of the baking powder found in the house and of that carried by the agent. From that found in the house, if a pure article, the bubbles of gas will rise and burst on top like those from a glass of champaigne. The Chicago baking powder which they carry, when mixed with water, will show an extra froth upon the top of the mixture which is claimed as evidence of superiority. On the contrary, however, it is not only the exhibition of a trick, but is absolute proof that the baking powder which so acts is adulterated. The chemists have ascertained that the adulterant used is a chemical added for the express purpose of producing this action and deceiving housekeepers as to the true value of the baking powder. This is not only a dishonest trick but a dirty one, for the chemical is the product of the filthy refuse of the refuse of the slaughter house, and if used in the preparation of food passes into the biscuit or food without change. Of course, any statements made in reference to other baking powders, by parties caught in practicing such tricks as these for the purpose of deceiving the public, will be entitled to no credit.

It is probably wisest in the interest of our families, and to prevent our food from being contaminated by tramps of this kind, to turn all persons who wish or attempt to tamper with it unceremoniously from the door, and to use those articles only which experience has proved satisfactory, or the official tests have established as pure and wholesome.

For twenty years I have suffered from catarrh. I purchased Ely's Cream Balm of J. Dawson & Son, which has so effectually cured my headache that I feel altogether a new man. I have recommended it to many with like good results.—M. M. Rex, D. D. S., Rochester, Ind.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for no such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

LEOPARDS TRAINED FOR HUNTING.

How Wild Animals in India Are Educated to Run Down Antelopes.

[Letter from India.]

The natives maintain that for true sport one must commence the training with a full-grown leopard for hunting purposes. The desirable fierceness and fleetness are only thus to be secured. The leopard is brought out in a bullock cart, with a kind of mask that covers its eyes. A chain is also slipped around its loins. It is quite tame, knowing its keeper and anticipating the sport.

The cart drives along, accompanied by the sportsmen, to a spot which the herd of antelopes will presently cross in their course. The does all go first, the black buck—the pride of the flock—invariably brings up the rear. The motive is ascribed to jealousy and a desire to keep his females all under his eye. Whatever the motive, the position is fatal to him. At the proper moment the hood is slipped off the cheetah's head, and his prey is shown him. Unlike the dog, he seems to hunt by sight and not by scent. He looks keenly about him for one moment, and then drops off the cart, generally at the off side, using it for a cover as long as he can. If there are trees or any rising ground he is quick to take advantage of them, and then makes his burst upon his quarry.

He almost invariably chooses the buck, but he runs him down by sheer fleetness. This is the meaning of those dog-like claws and the great length of limb that make him look almost out of proportion in where all the other cat-like creatures—tigers, leopards, jaguars, pumas, and lions—are short-legged and crouching. The speed is scarcely to be credited. There is no greyhound that can run down a doe antelope. But it is a sorry sport at best—if, indeed, it can be called sport at all. The cheetah springs on the back of the buck, strangles it, and laps up its blood. The huntsman comes up and cuts the throat of the antelope and, letting the blood flow into a wooden cup, gives it to the cheetah, watching his time when the creature is gorged to slip the hood over his eyes and lead him back to the cart.

The natives give their accounts of the animal more picturesquely, and the native accounts are still to be found in the natural-history books. In a wild state the cheetah feeds itself only every three days, gorging itself on these occasions and lying comatose during the intervals. In their pursuit of prey they are social, and in that way differ from most of the other carnivora. Two or three of them will meet at night and go forth on their hunting expeditions in company. It is by ascertaining their place of tryst that the natives are able to capture them. It is very often by the trunk of a tree, which is found all scratched and barked by their claws. Nooses and meshes are driven into the ground. The leopards come bounding over the grass and are soon caught. A blanket is flung over the head and the creature is tied and carried off. One of the favorite theories of the natives, which is repeated over and over again in the books, is that when the trained leopard misses his stroke he cannot recover his breath quick enough for a second bound and the heard passes from him in safety.

Then he gets extremely agitated, runs up and down till his temper subsides, and is at last "carted" and again let slip on fresh quarry. It is a picturesque kind of notion, but most men who have seen antelope-hunting in the East will be able to qualify its application. The leopard does not show his temper to any extreme extent, and, in fact, is making another bound on his prey before the antelope can get off or the temper can rise. Nor is the popular idea that he must be caught adult in order to secure the perfection of his hunting qualities quite correct. He is a tamable creature, and, therefore, even when an adult, can be managed, but those who have raised cheetah kittens will realize that it needs no training to make them gratify their carnivorous inclinations. Maj. Jerdon had one that followed him about like a dog, racing after him when he took his rides.

But when it grew up it showed soon enough that it was naturally given to hunting. Its attacks on sheep had to be prevented, and several horsewhippings made it realize that they were under special protection. A donkey defended himself successfully with his heels. A cheetah was in such matters quick to take a hint and had a good memory. Its training was commenced on gazelles, but it soon attained the dignity of bringing down antelopes. Its owner mentioned one peculiarity in proof that it hunted by sight and not by scent. It was very fond of mounting a stack of hay, or the trunk of a tree, and from that eminence looking down on the hunting possibilities of the neighborhood, and, when actually in the chase, if the antelope got out of sight, it would abandon pursuit, but if a greyhound were then slipped he would resume the chase and, of course, outstrip the dog.

Nothing but superlative intrinsic merit can account for the phenomenal reputation achieved, in so short a time, by Salvation Oil. It kills pain. Price, twenty-five cents a bottle.

She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist said "plasters are all about the same" but I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. MRS. WILLIS MAGILL.

Uncle Jerry Rusk of Wisconsin.

The western candidates for the Republican nomination are sufficiently numerous, but it does not appear that more than one or two of them have much strength.

It may be that Mr. Blaine's friends will prefer that he should not stand aside, even voluntarily, to make room for another Republican statesman. It may be that they will decide, in case the Democratic wrestling with the surplus problem should reduce the surplus and not the Democratic party, that a vigorous and picturesque personality, unhackneyed and unconventional, would more successfully appeal to popular favor than any of the better known figures.

In that case, Jeremiah Rusk, of Wisconsin, might be the man? He appears to have at least the Jacksonian characteristic of doing his duty promptly as he sees it. He is bluff, vigorous in language and action, unspoiled by schools, a diamond in the rough. It would be easy to write an attractive campaign life of such a man. Jerry, the foe of the Anarchists, hearty old Uncle Jerry, the people's Jerry, could be set out in showy colors. Friends of order and property would be asked to rally around him. Jerry certainly would be great fun.

Put on with him for the intellectual part of the ticket a man like Phelps, of New Jersey, and you would have a showy ticket. Mr. Phelps would do finance and the tariff, while Governor Rusk did the rising from poverty to affluence by his unaided efforts, and showed that he was unpledged and unterrified.

Rusk and Phelps, a grand and glittering platform and plenty of music by the band.—New York Sun.

Sherman Tries to Explain.

Senator Sherman is in trouble over his Nashville and Springfield speeches. A Nashville admirer has written him a letter, imploring him to explain that he did not mean at Springfield exactly the opposite of what he said at Nashville. This the senator undertakes to do in a letter, in which he praises the honesty and courage of the Confederates, while denouncing the Democracy of the north.

Senator Sherman's explanation does not explain. Every intelligent man knows that the Nashville speech was made to increase his popularity in the south, while his Springfield utterance was intended to please the Bourbon irreconcilables, who insist on fighting the war till the crack of doom. If there had been no newspapers or telegraphs to spread the two speeches and invite every reader to make comparisons—in short, if this were not the Nineteenth century—Mr. Sherman would not have been called upon to explain the unexplainable and make a mess of it.

The senator from Ohio is pretty old to learn anything new, but he should be able to comprehend that the methods of Mr. Facing-both-ways cannot be successfully employed in this age of newspapers and newspaper readers. A public man cannot say one thing in Tennessee and exactly the opposite in Illinois without being found out.—Philadelphia Times.

Let Us Repeat It.

Let us hope that the next St. Louis convention will rival the last St. Louis convention in the elements which compose it. That of 1876 was in all ways Democratic. There was not a flaw upon its representative character, or its honorable and patriotic purposes. The nomination of Tilden was procured without the outlay of a penny, or any unworthy dicker. It was the logic of the situation that the eminent reform governor of the Empire state should be the reform candidate of his party for chief magistrate of the nation. Though there seemed to be a contest, there was, in reality, none at all. At least two days before the assembling of the convention the friends of Mr. Tilden knew that they had everything in their own hands, and the little friction made by Tammany Hall merely added a zest to the occasion and lifted it out of the dullness of monotony. The sparring between John Kelly and John Morrissey was beautiful. But the gloves were on and nobody was hurt by it.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Vacillating John Sherman.

Candidate John Sherman strongly reminds one of the position of the down east candidate for office who laid down his platform to the voters from the stump with the remark: "Them's my sentiments. I hope they will suit; but, if they don't suit, they can be altered." That is just Senator Sherman's attitude toward the Chinese question. His course didn't suit California. He proceeds to alter it as rapidly and as radically as possible. Not content with this, he also writes a letter to a gentleman in Nashville, in which he undertakes to explain that his assault upon the south did not mean half what it appears to on its face, and then proceeds to "alter" his attitude in this respect also. If John Sherman isn't president, it will not be for lack of trying. If at first he don't succeed, he tries, tries again, and if one tack is not a promising tack for the purpose he is not at all above trying another.—Boston Herald.

A Party of Negation.

About the richest thing which has appeared in recent political discussion is the declaration by The St. Louis Globe-Democrat that the Democratic party is nothing more than "an organized negation."

This is certainly a unique charge from the organ of a party which today has not one positive principle except of blind partisan opposition to all that Democracy stands for.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Plenty of Republican Asses.

Congressman Phelps says that in 1884 the Republican party was defeated by the jawbone of an ass. It appears that in 1888 the old party is to be defeated by the jawbones of a vast company of asses simultaneously in action.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Won't Let Him.

It is funny that Mr. Blaine cannot, if he wants to, get out of the way. His friends have a sad way of sticking to him.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

And Getting Nothing.

Mr. Blaine does not want to be overworked in "claiming everything" after election day.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Now Is the Time.

It is time now to decide who is with us and who is against us. — Louisville Courier-Journal.

His Reynard Wit.

Mr. Depew still professes to think it will be Blaine. Depew is foxy.—Boston Herald.

You Bet.

The Democrats are in splendid fighting condition.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Small Size of Great Men.

That good goods are often made up into small parcels is an ancient truism. It is equally true, though paradoxical, that many of the world's greatest men have been small. "Little Phil Sheridan," that name is a household word. The Iron Duke of Wellington was often twitted with his small stature and great nose. Bonaparte was even shorter. Gen. Lord Wolseley is ridiculously small. There is a mistaken impression abroad that England's "Grand Old Man," Gladstone, is a tall man. His portraits certainly all give that idea. The sage of Hawarden, the mighty ax wielder, the still mightier orator, is a spare, wiry man of five feet eight or nine inches at most.—New York Press "Every Day Talk."

Fish as a "Brain Food."

"Fish," says Dr. W. W. Godding, of Washington, "has for years enjoyed the reputation of being rich in phosphorus and hence adapted to the growth of brains. How such a notion originated I do not know; perhaps because stale fish shines with a phosphorescent light in the dark. As a food, fish is richer in water than in phosphorus, and to feed it to children, expecting thereby to grow them into philosophers, would be on a par with the scholar who boiled his dictionary in milk for supper, hoping thus to acquire the language. As a matter of fact physiological experiments, often repeated on a large scale, rather negative the popular idea of the value of fish as a 'brain food.'"—Public Opinion.

The peculiar purifying and building up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla make it the very best medicine to take at this season.

A Shrewd Attempt.

Mr. Halstead declares in The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette that he finds here in the east a strong Republican combination against John Sherman, now that Blaine is out of the contest for the presidency. Is this a shrewd attempt to create the impression that Sherman really has a chance?—New York World.

They Are Coming to It.

If the Republican press of Indiana keeps on, it will demonstrate to the satisfaction of everybody, long before the convention meets, that neither Harrison nor Gresham can carry Indiana. And that is just the fact.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Another Boom Gone Up.

The Ben Harrison boom has caught on a jagged projection in his record and torn wide open. He voted against the Chinese bill in 1882. Gone to join Blaine, Sheridan, Fred Grant and Lincoln.—St. Louis Republican.

Says What He Believes.

Ingalls, of the Grasshopper state, maintains that it is "the right of every American citizen to aspire to the highest office in the land." Was e'er a maiden half so coy?—Philadelphia Times.

Read and Reflect.

The more Democrats that have been put in place the cleaner the administration has become.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Sherman Thinks Not.

Is there anything about the presidency that a citizen should be afraid of it?—New York Herald.

Have you a cough? Sleepless nights need no longer trouble you. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will stop the cough, allay the inflammation, and induce repose. It will, moreover, heal the pulmonary organs and give you health.

Evolution of a Diamond.

Carbon has now been yielded by meteorites in three stages of development. Uncrystallized graphite has long been known as a constituent of meteoric irons and stones, and graphite crystals were recently found in a metoric iron from western Australia, while the report has just been made that small diamond corpuscles have been obtained from a meteoric stone which fell in Russia in 1886. It is suggested that these discoveries may point out the road to the artificial production of the diamond.—Frank Leslie's.

Hon. C. Edwards Lester,

Late U. S. Consul to Italy, author of "The Glory and Shame of England," "America's Advancement," etc., etc., etc., writes as follows:—

DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass.,

Gentlemen:—A sense of gratitude and the desire to render a service to the public impel me to make the following statements:

My college career, at New Haven, was interrupted by a severe cold which so enfeebled me that, for ten years, I had a hard struggle for life. Hemorrhage from the bronchial passages was the result of almost every fresh exposure. For years I was under treatment of the ablest practitioners without avail. At last I learned of which I used (moderately and in small doses) at the first recurrence of a cold or any chest difficulty, and from which I invariably found relief. This was over 25 years ago. With all sorts of exposure, in all sorts of climates, I have never, to this day, had any cold nor any affection of the throat or lungs which did not yield to AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL within 24 hours.

Of course I have never allowed myself to be without this remedy in all my voyages and travels. Under my own observation, it has given relief to vast numbers of persons; while in acute cases of pulmonary inflammation, such as croup and diphtheria in children, life has been preserved through its effects. I recommend its use in light but frequent doses. Properly administered, in accordance with your directions, it is in any house. I speak earnestly because I feel earnestly. I have known many cases of apparently confirmed bronchitis and cough, with loss of voice, particularly among clergymen and other public speakers, perfectly cured by this medicine. Faithfully yours,

C. EDWARDS LESTER.

Were all wise enough to heed this advice in season, a world of suffering would be avoided. If you suffer from impure blood, scrofula, dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, take

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

County Auditor Neizer was at his Monroeville home over Sunday.

The German Military association has decided to enter the State Militia.

Judge Chapin this morning adjourned the superior court until next Monday.

Mr. Charley Reese, the assistant city clerk, is at home from a visit to Lafayette.

Street Commissioner O'Brien has a force of men cleaning Calhoun street. It needs it.

Miss Esther McKinnie is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Will MacKinnie, at the Wayne hotel.

The Baptist bazaar, in the Bank block, will continue to-night and to-morrow night.

Mr. R. T. McDonald arrived home from New York city this morning. He tells great tales of the blizzard.

Mr. Harry Metzgar and Mr. O. B. Wiley were at Camden, Ind., yesterday to see their friend, John P. Hance, who is in poor health.

William A. Kegg has been granted a permit to build an addition to his house on lot 28 in Hoagland and Miller's addition, to cost $200.

Mrs. Miller, of DeWald street, lost a pocket book containing $18, which Officer Troutman afterward found and returned to the owner.

The Wabash "cannon ball" from the west, due here at 6 p. m., one evening last week made the run from Delphi to Lafayette—a distance of sixteen and a half miles—in nineteen minutes.

The Keller family have been assisted by Rev. Father Messman, of St. Peter's Catholic church, and kind neighbors during their residence in Fort Wayne. They do not appear to appreciate their own situation.

Alois Leibel, a character well known about town for his connection with various saloons, died at the City hospital Saturday last. Mr. Geo. Orthelb and other gentlemen contributed a purse and gave Mr. Leibel a nice funeral this afternoon.

Charles G. French, as executor, has sold to Wm. J. Kettler lot 48, Hanna's addition, for $5,500; Alvin J. Stewart to Hugh Daugherty lot 31, Elias Hanna's addition, for $600; Harriett M. Dean to Geo. R. Wells lot 59, north side, for $2,000.

Mr. Emanuel Rosenthal was pleasantly surprised at his residence last evening by the members of the S. W. B., who presented him with a beautiful and costly toilet set. Mr. Rosenthal acknowledged the same with refreshments and all present had a very enjoyable time.

Special sale of black alpaca, oil, calico and gingham aprons, at the Baptist bazaar. Doughnuts and coffee will be served for lunch. The tambourine drill will also be repeated. The platform will be raised so all can see the drill from any portion of the hall. All other booths will be open.

Yesterday was the anniversary of St. Ulrich, the discoverer of sauer kraut, according to the Staats Zeitung historian. Colonel Frank Leonard, of the Gazette, observed the event and a gorgeous cabbage head adorned his front. Ravenous cows gazed with envy on Colonel Leonard, but his appearance is proof against an attack.

Rev. J. M. Durney's lecture at Library hall Saturday night is highly spoken of. The musical program was a very pleasing feature of the evening. Miss Buckley's solo, the chorus singing and piano solo were very pretty. Miss Buckley has a promising voice and sings charmingly. The entertainment was a very fitting close to the occasion which was so admirably observed by Irish Americans.

Died, Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Sylvia A. Unger, at the residence of Mr. Alexander Austin, No. 39 West Fourth street, aged sixty-four years. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 9:30 at Prairie Grove cemetery. Mrs. Unger was an estimable and highly esteemed lady. She formerly lived in Fort Wayne, but for a number of years has been residing on her farm in Pleasant township. She was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Austin, when her death occurred.

Several very large capitalists in New York city—among them Christopher Meyer, Sidney Dillon, Russell Sage and and others—have united themselves together for the purpose of voting their several holdings of stock in the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad at the coming election in June, to elect a board that will pay off the present indebtedness of the road and to place it in good financial shape, also to put the Dayton, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway in good financial condition.

Our people are on the qui vive anticipating the opening of the beautiful salesrooms so elaborately fitted up by Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max. Judging from present indications the near future promises to more fully surprise the expectations of the public. Beyond question no business establishment in the country will surpass it in elegance of decorations, richness of furniture, illuminated glass and artistic ensemble. Mr. Max Nirdlinger was given carte blanche, and all know what that signifies. Every effort is being made to throw open this magnificent building for public reception, Thursday evening, March 29, from 7 to 9 o'clock. Music, flowers and lovely souvenirs for everybody. Reception for little folks, April 4, from 4 to 6 p. m. dawlt

REV. T. J. BACHER

Resigns the Pastorship of the Grace Reformed Church, of This City.

At the close of his sermon yesterday morning, Rev. T. J. Bacher, the pastor of the Grace Reformed church, announced from the pulpit his resignation, which is to take effect next Sunday. This action on his part is due to the continued ill health of Mrs. Bacher, whom the doctors have advised to seek a different climate.

The announcement of his resignation, although known to a few of the official members, was a suprise to the large congregation present. It fell as a sad piece of news upon them and many were the words of regret and sorrow that were expressed as they pressed forward to clasp the hand of their beloved pastor.

Rev. Bacher came to this city five years ago and organized the Grace Reformed congregation. They had no place of worship and for a time the congregation held services in a rented hall. By the untiring efforts of their pastor they have built a beautiful church edifice on East Washington street, costing $12,000, and what is more to the credit of the pastor, the last $500 of the debt incurred will have been paid before his resignation takes effect. The congregation is now one of the most flourishing church organizations of the city, numbers a membership of 134 and has a brilliant and promising future before it.

Rev. Bacher is one of the most brilliant young ministers of the city. As a pulpit orator, is earnest and eloquent, while as a pastor he is universally loved, and numbers his friends both inside and out of church circles. His resignation will be universally regretted and to none more so than the attendants of the little Grace church, among whose membership he is so deservedly popular. He leaves the church and the city with the highest regard of all and THE SENTINEL joins with his many friends in wishing him success in his future fields of labor.

TWO CASUALTIES.

Pat Quinn and Tom Shaughnessy Hurt on the Railroads.

A few minutes after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, while endeavoring to make a coupling in the east yards, Pat Quinn, living at 90 Thomas street, was thrown under the cars and run over, and his left leg and left arm were horribly mangled.

The new patrol wagon was pressed into ambulance duty and the unfortunate man was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. Stemen attended him, and found an amputation of the members necessary.

The operation was in vain, however, despite the physician's efforts in his behalf, and he died a few hours afterward. Mr. Quinn was a married man and leaves a wife and four children.

Tommy Shaughnessy was injured yesterday by falling from the top of a car, at the Wabash water tank. The wheels passed over his right arm. His arm was amputated yesterday by Drs. Myers and Lipes, at the St. Joseph hospital. He is doing nicely. Shaughnessy is fourteen years old and the son of a widow, Mrs. Martin Shaughnessy.

MRS. LANGAN.

Her Death After Living Fifty Years in Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Langan, relict of the late Michael Langan, died Saturday evening very suddenly at the residence of George Baer, No. 80 Creighton avenue.

The folks were at church when the lady died and returning found her body on the couch. She was eighty years of age and death come from exhaustion.

Mrs. Langan came to Fort Wayne over fifty years ago, when this now populous city was a wilderness. Her husband was a well digger and old inhabitants will recall him as well as his wife, whose remarkable residence of half a century is without a parallel.

The funeral of the venerable pioneer lady will occur to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral.

THE LUTHERANS

Organize a Mutual Aid and Insurance Society.

Representatives of the St. Paul's, Emanuels and the Zion Lutheran churches met at Carpenters' hall last night and organized a mutual aid and insurance society. Mr. Fred Schmelzer presided at the meeting, which appointed a committee of five members, consisting of William Schmidt, Michael Wessell, John Busch, Chales Buck and Fred Schmelzer, to draft a constitution and plan of organization to report to a similar meeting next Sunday.

The meeting last night was largely attended and great interest was manifested.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Week Commences With a Dull Day and News Does Not Loom Up in Great Shape.

The trains were on time yesterday.

Fred Miller, of the Pittsburg freight office, is quite ill.

James Wells, a machinist living on Murray street, is very ill.

J. R. Metzner, a Grand Rapids conductor, is on the sick list.

The employes in the shops had the spring fever this morning.

M. J. Diehl, a popular engineer of Chicago, spent Sunday in the city.

Bert Hartman, of the Jenney electric light company, is ill with diphtheria.

Albert Laurens, has again taken a position in the Jenney Electric Light works.

Charley Cherry, the clerk at the Pittsburg works, has purchased a handsome new bicycle.

Some of the boys in the shops have not yet recovered from the celebration of St. Patrick's day.

The Horton manufacturing company have commenced to work upon an order for 2,000 corn planters.

The electric light works are crowded with work and the busy establishment have a night force on duty.

Jacob Strown, of the Wabash railroad, has recovered from his sickness and resumed his position at the depots.

O. E. Jenkins, traveling passenger agent of the New York Central & Hudson River line, was in the city yesterday.

A syelcone of quietness seems to have struck the railroad and manufacturing establishments and news is uncommonly dull.

Charles Gilbert, a former fireman on the Wabash, has gone to Dubuque, Iowa, to take a similar position in that state.

Officer Limescooley reports police duty as very dull around the depots for the last few days—a state of things he likes to see, however.

The officials of the Pennsylvania company have issued orders forbidding bicycles being ridden between the tracks of the company's yards in this city.

It is reported upon good authority that two of the young lady employes of the electric light works will shortly resign their positions for the purpose of getting married.

The rumor that the Pittsburg works were to start up again with a full force, as stated in Saturday's SENTINEL, to commence work upon a new order of locomotives from the east, created a sensation. We have reason to believe it is true. If such is the case many of the recently discharged employes will be taken back again.

Mr. James Dickson, the well known engineer on the Pittsburg road, is the chairman of the local grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He spent some time in consultation with his brethren, at Chicago, last week, and left again yesterday for that place to meet with the executive grievance committee, who are in session there deliberating on the Burlington strike.

A railroad manager of large experience and who has been in nearly every branch of railroad service, remarked, yesterday, that what he most feared was the reaction, should the strike become more general. He said that he was years in educating his directors up to the idea of paying trainmen well for their services, and wages had been steadily advanced and well maintained. On most first-class roads men are now paid on the mileage basis, and, if disposed to work, could average $130 a month the year round; in fact, on their road some of the engineers made $140 to $150 a month. The trouble was that these strikes cut down revenues, and, with reduced revenues, there was great danger that reduction in wages would follow. At any rate, this was a phase of the situation which it would be well for the striking engineers and firemen to consider.
